REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 11.-David B. Hill, Louis. Democratic "boss" of New York State, left this city this evening, after playing entitled "The Wooling of Guffey; or Lead- Hoffman House for dress rehearsal. This entitled "The Wooing of Guffey; or Leading a Doubting Soul Toward the Light."

The first act was put on at the Hoffman House for dress rehearsal. This began early yesterday morning—in fact so early that the performance started while the star was taking breakfast. The first of the support to appear were Cord Mayer, chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Anthony N. Brady, traction at the Fourteenth Street Wigwam. His play is entitled "Sink or Swim: or How to Win With the Short End."

Colonel James M. Guffey, who carries the delegation from Pennsylvania to the National Convention in his inside pocket, is very much in demand, and both Hill shad Murphy are offering him inducements to join their shows. So far, Colonel Guffey has refused to sign with either, and occupies the envied position of sitting back and watching the rival stars bid for his support. When he decides to become leading man, he wants to be assured that the show he joins will not a candidate for the presidential nomination.

After all had rehearsed their parts, Mr. Hill stated that none present filled the bill for the leading man, and declared his belief that Guffey mest be obtained for the role. None of the other actors took this amiss; in fact, all agreed with the starthat Guffey is the Individual they require. Guffey called on Hill and Sheehan yesterday evening. The star was anxious that Guffey assume a leading role, but the Pennsylvania boss modestly declined to blid himself, although he held out the encouragement to Hill that he thought the show might become a member. After the rehearsal at the Hoffman House, Elliott Danforth appeared in the corridor and smillingly talked of the "brilliant prospects" for Parker.

"Virginia has declared for Parker," he said, "and I expect that North Carolina will do Bkewise. All the States are falling it is line. I am very much gratified at the action of the New Jersey delegation. It was only to be expected, after Mr. Cleveland let it be known that he would not accept the nomination.

est man. Mr. Hill's friends, however, have been making desperate efforts to capture Colonel Guftey, and it has been said that Mr. Hill is willing to yield the national chairmanship to him if the Pennsylvanian will come out for Judge Parker. THE RUNNING MATE.

Parker's running mate will probably be chosen from the Middle West. It is said Indiana has the call upon the nomination in return for its instructions for Parker, and the name of Benjamin F, Shively is mentioned as the State's leading candidate for the vice presidency. Mr. Lamb said to-day that Indiana has no candidate, but will furnish one if called upon. It may be that negotiations will end in giving Indiana the chairmanship of the National Committee, for Thomas Taggart of that State, who swung the delegation for Parker, is anxious for the honor.

Democratic politicians expect a lively fight at the National Convention over the organization of the Committee on Resolutions. It is understood that David B. Hill, who will head the delegation from this State, will have himself placed on the committee, and all Democrats expect, as a matter of course, that W. J. Bryan will be the Nebraska member of the committee. It is also expected that both Hill and Bryan will be candidates for the cinarmanship, and in that fight will come the first test of Bryan's strength in the convention.

Mr. Hill may have a fight on his hands Indiana has the call upon the nomination wention.

Mr. Hill may have a fight on his hands in the New York delegation in order to get on the Committee on Resolutions. It is expected that the Tammany delegates will oppose him, and they may have some support from up the State. At Kansas City four years ago he was kept off the committee by order of Richard Croker. If Mr. Bryan is defeated for the chairmanship of the committee, and the platform reported does not indorse the Kansas City platform, he will, in the opinion of Democratic politicians, present a minority report, which will enable him to make a speech in the convention. the arteries the power to contract, and

TEXAS REPUBLICANS ACTIVE. Candidate for Governor.

Dallas, Tex., June 1.-The Republican party leaders of Texas are arranging to get out the full vote of the party at the next general election to be held next fall. It is asserted by those who are in close touch with the situation in different parts of the State that many thousands of Northern men have located in Texas in the last four years, and that a surprising big Republican vote will be polled next fall. The State Convention will be held in August for the purpose of putting out a State ticket from Governor down. It is announced that the State Republican Executive Committee will meet in Dallas soon after the National Convention has been held, for the purpose of forming plans for an active State campaign. The date and olace for holding the convention will be fixed at that meeting.

It is too early to say who the Republicans will nominate for Governor, but there is considerable talk to the effect that the empty honor will fall upon Webster Fianagan, who is now holding the office of United States Internal Revenue Collector at Austin. It is believed that he would not be required to resign from that office in order to make a campaign for Governor. hig Republican vote will be polled next

The fireworks started in the home ward of State Senator C. W. Clarke, who is a delegate at large. He was present and protested that he could not absolve himself from his promises to Mr. Akins. The Republicans at the meetings, who were chiefly attached to the new Republican city administration, adopted resolutions asking the delegates to vote against Federal officeholders, who, "because of their personal interests, could not be depended upon to work for the party's interests."

A number of other ward meetings will be held in Kansas City, when other resolutions of similar import will be adopted. One set of resolutions, which has been adopted, suggest that as Mr. Kerens has dropped out of politics harmony would be restored by the State chairman doing the same. This is the old Kerens game of "harmony," which has been worked in every convention or caucus when he managed to win.

The date for the primary is fixed for June 25. By previous action of the committee, the delegates were named and instructed by the committee. Politicians figure that the $100 assessments on Governor. Lieutenant Governor and Congressmen are because of the antagonisms of the committee, which was against Mr. Folk and his friends.

J. H. Noien of La Grange, editor of The Indicator, was in the city yesterday and called at Folk headquarters. He is a delegate to the State Convention. "I am in favor of William T. A Condition Known as Systemic Catarrh=== A Congressman's Indorsement.

DR. G. B. CROWE, a physician and a very influential man in Alabama, and chairman of the Populist State Committee, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman of Columbus, O., says:

resentative body of brokers will be called upon to decide whether or not a member shall be disciplined for an alleged attempt to corrupt the chairman of the exchange.

As the case will be stated to the board, two members were fined for an intraction of the rules. One of them promptly tentered the amount which had been assessed against him and in consideration of his willingness to pay the fine was remitted. The other member, it is said, instead of signifying his willingness to pay his fine, tendered to the chairman of the exchange a cigar with a suggestion that that "would square it."

The chairman indignantly refused to accept the peace offering. He levied a second fine against the member and demanded immediate payment. Upon the refusal of the member to pay either the original fine or the one which was added, because of his effort to placate the chairman, it was agreed to refer the matter to the Board of Governors.

As a result of this action a contravery has arisen. Some of the brokers believe that there is nothing in the rules to institly fining a member for attempted bribery, while others uphold the chairman and are outspoken in declaring the direction.
